In news— Kudmi community has recently demanded Scheduled Tribe (ST) status and the inclusion of their language in the Eighth Schedule of the Constitution.

About the community-

- The Kudumi Mahato are a community found in states of Jharkhand, West Bengal and Odisha of India.
- They are also known as Kurmbi, Kudmi, Kurmi Mahto/Mahato (not to be confused with Kurmi) or Kudumi Mohanta/Mahanta.
- The Kudumi were classified as a Notified Tribe by the British Raj under the terms of the Indian Succession Act introduced in 1865 as they have customary rules of succession.
- Subsequently, in 1913, they were classified as a Primitive Tribe. Despite being a tribe, they were omitted from the list of communities listed as tribes in the 1931 census.
- Again, they were omitted from the Scheduled Tribe list drawn up in 1950, for reasons that are unknown.
- In 2004 the Government of Jharkhand recommended that they should be listed as a Scheduled Tribe rather than Other Backward Class.
- Kurmali is an Indo-Aryan language spoken in Eastern India. Kurmali is generally linked to the Kudumi Mahato (also known as Kurmi, Mahanta or Mohanta) community of Jharkhand, Odisha & West Bengal.
- Kudmali is also spoken by the Kudumi people of Assam, and was brought to the tea gardens from Bihar, Odisha and West Bengal.
- Chait Parab, Karam, Jitiya, Badna, Tusu are the major festival of Kudmi. They worship Budhabaap in Madapthan and Garam at gramthan. Jhumar and Chhau are their folk dance.
