

World day against Human Trafficking

July 30, 2022

In news– World day against Human Trafficking was observed on 30th July, 2022.

About the day-

- The day aims to educate people that trafficking in persons is considered to be a crime, including exploitation of women and children for tragic jobs of forced labour and sex.
- In 2010, the United Nations General Assembly had adopted the Global Plan of Action to deal with trafficking in persons, urging governments all around the world to take coordinated and consistent efforts to defeat this scourge.
- The plan is aimed at integrating the fight against human trafficking into the broader programmes of the United Nations in order to stimulate development and strengthen the security all over the world.
- One of the important provisions in the plan is to establish a UN Voluntary Trust Fund for victims of trafficking including women and children.
- In 2013, the UN General Assembly organised a high-level meeting to work on the Global Plan of Action.
- The member states adopted a resolution and designated 30 July as the World Day against Trafficking in Persons.
- This resolution emphasised that the day was important to “raise awareness of the situation of victims of human trafficking and for the promotion and protection of their rights.
- The theme for the year 2022 is “Use and abuse of technology". It focuses on the role of technology that acts as a tool to enable and impede human trafficking.
